Notice on Updated labelling requirement

Amendment-04

Regulatory strengthening on control on falsified product

To all marketing authorization holders

After considering the requests submitted by manufacturers and local agents for an additional extension to comply with regulatory requirements, the Board of the National Medicines Regulatory Authority (NMRA) has decided to further extend the grace period for the implementation of product-specific QR codes or barcodes on commercial packaging.

The extended grace period will commence on 1st of January 2026 and continue until 30th June 2026.

Alternatively, the NMRA will accept a 2D Matrix containing essential product information such as the product code, lot number, manufacturing date, expiry date, serial number, and other relevant details.

Please note that the requirement to affix printed or non-peelable stickers to each commercial pack, displaying the phrase "NMRA approved", the details of the market authorization holder, and the retail price of the product, will remain effective from 31st December 2024.

This decision aims to provide sufficient time for all stakeholders to implement the necessary changes while strengthening control measures to prevent the circulation of falsified products in the market.

Thank you for your cooperation.
